House Group Approves Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (BP) - The House Education and Labor Committee gave final approval to the President's elementary and secondary education aid bill. It kept revisions made earlier by the education subcommittee which eliminated most of the church state problems.

During hearings on the bill suggestions were made by religious and educational groups to assure that aids were publicly controlled and administered. Many of these suggestions were written into the bill before it was sent to the full committee.

Criticism of the original proposal had come on the way aids were provided for children in private schools. The objection was that these

BILLY GRAHAM—

Future Belongs To Christians

HONOLULU (RNS) - Billy Graham concluded a weeklong Honolulu Crusade before. some 15,500 persons with a warning that the world is plunging from crisis to crisis while the United Nations "is proving ineffective to keep the peace."

The American evangelist said the 1965 crises reminded him of the "events of 1939" during the Nazi regime when there were "peace talks upon peace talks."

"If man unleashes his modern weapons, the world could easily be destroyed," he said ... "God Almighty has to intervene or we'll blow each other up." He added that new atomic, chemical and biological weapons are "capable of exterminating the last remnant of human, animal and vegetable life."

"It is ridiculous to think that those weapons will not be used, human nature being what it is," he said.

In his last sermon, Mr. Graham also lashed out against obscenity in literature and movies, which, he said, "stirs the lowest passion and imagination of man."

"The unnatural obsession of American men with sex will destoy us before the Communists can get to us. . . unless we repent," he as-evangelist said, "does not belong to the Communists. The future belongs to Christians. The future is ours."

Attendance 65,000

His Honolulu rallies drew a total attendance of more than 65,000, with 2,900 persons making "decisions for Christ." Following the Honolulu Crusade, Mr. Graham was to hold a series of nightly rallies on some of Hawaii's other islands, concluding with a final meeting on Kauai, Feb. 28.

An ardent supporter of the crusade was Rabbi Roy A. Rosenberg of Honolulu's Temple emanuel, who attended some of the meetings and defended the evangelist against critics. The rabbi said he respected the Southern Baptist minister, holding Mr. Graham has a theology which some churches lack and that religion without theology is irrelevant.

After attending a rally Rabbi Rosenberg observed that it had impressed him as 'an artfully organized religious pageant."

Since I am not a Christian," he said, "I do not accept a great deal of what Mr. Graham has to say, but I do salute him as an eloquent and articulate spokesman for what has always been the classical Christian message."

A longtime associate of the evangelist said later, "To my knowledge that's the first time a rabbi has ever publicly come to Mr. Graham's de ATLANTA (BP)- Southern Baptists closed last year one of their most sustained and lengthy emphases-the 30,000 Movement-and the final report just in found them only 5,000 short.

The movement was church extension effort to start 10,000 churches and 20,-000 missions in nine years. They reported 24,917.

C. C. Warren, president of the convention in 1956, challenged Southern Baptists at their meeting that year, in Kansas City to match the number of churches with new missions and churches.

Thus was born the 30,000 Movement, and Warren left the pastorate of First Baptist Church of Charlotte, N. C. to direct the effort, employed by the Home Mission Board and the Sunday School Board. The mission agency presently continues the emphasis of the movement through its church

The new Utah-Idaho state convention sent in $856 in Cooperative Program gifts which became a part of the monthly total of $1,693,153. The Utah-Idaho group also sent $2,183 in designations, principally from the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering for Foreign Missions, which went into the total of $5,325,860 from all states.

The $1,693,153 receipts from state conventions in February toward the SBC cooperative program budget brought the year to date to $3,727,252.

This is 3.63 per cent above the two-month, 1964 total of $3,596,533, according to SBC treasurer Porter Routh of Nashville.

The Baptist Recurd

Designations showed a much greater increase over the year before. For January and February, they have now amounted to $8,431,187, an increase of 8.53 per cent over the January-February, 1964 sum of $7,768.834. Most of the designations were through the special Foreign Missions off-tempts fell about 50 signatures short. A discharge petition is not a well-liked route among Congressmen, the feeling being that they would not themselves like to be circumvented were they serving on a committee.

In announcing his action,

Rep. Broyhill cited a Harris Poll conducted during the Presidential campaign which showed a majority of Americans favor prayers and Bible reading in schools.

If it was hard to get enough signatures last year to effect the discharge, observers here feel it will be even more difficult this year, since there has not yet been built up the interest in the issue that it

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ROUNDUP— HMB-State Loan Fund Okayed

NASHVILLE (BP) - The Southern Baptist Convention Home Mission Board received authority here to work with state Baptist groups to make available a guaranty loan fund.

The guaranty loan fund might multiply the usefulness of the board's loan funds five times, and perhaps even more, without making the board legally or morally responsible beyond the guaranty loan fund deposit.

The fund would implement a church loan program within the state Baptist conventions. Either a bond program, or bank financing, or both would be involved.

One advantage of the guaranty loan fund would be that it would help churches in pioneer mission areas establish a credit rating with local banks. The Home Mission Board would make a guaranty loan deposit with the banks, at the request of state Baptist groups, and the banks would make the loans the executive committee which studied the church loan situation reported back to the full committee: "Our study indicates that a portion of the money available through denominational channels for church loans could probably be used to better advantage in guaranty funds than in direct loans. "Our study indicates that a guaranty fund of $10,000, for example, would secure an investment of at least $500,000 in church loans or bonds by a bank or other investor. Thus it appears the judicious use of guaranty funds could be the means of attracting substantial new money into church financing."

"For several years southern Baptists have been disturbed about the appparent reduction of the number of young people entering ministry and other church-related vocations as revealed in enrolment reports of the colleges and seminaries," The executive committee was told in a resolution introduced by committeeman Owen Cooper of Yazoo City, Miss.

"The natural and warrantable assumption is that the decline increases or even remains at the present rate. there will be shortages of personnel for the churches and convention agencies," the statement continued.

PRESS POLICY OKAYED

The sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention executive committee in which the full committee is at work are open to press coverage and discussions and actions are on the record."

"On the record" means votes may be reported as well as what is said during discussion and who says it. Only exception is when "good and sufficient" reasons are stated, certain statements may be made "off the record"—that s, not for publication Subcommittees of the executive committee, which consider matters referred by the full committee for study and a report back to the full group, are also open to press attendance. Here, "Background rules" apply. "Background rules" mean that no direct quotation may be made in press reporting and there can be no attribution of remarks to any speaker, according to the executive committee. The "right and responsibility to conduct executive sessions in unusual circumstances," by the full committee and subcommittees, was recognize. Among "unusual circumstances" under which the press would be forbidden access, would be "consideration of certain delicate personality and personnel matters which could not be handled wisely in open session without unnecessarily embarrassing individuals."

Commissioners also decided to make no recommendations for messenger voting when the Christian Life Commission makes its report to the 1965 convention session at Dallas in June.

Missionary To Be Visiting Professor At Carey College

William Carey College has announced the coming to the campus next fall of Dr. William M. Clawson as visiting professor in the Department of Bible. Dr. and Mrs. Clawson are missionaries to Mexico and will be on regular furlough from the field during all of next school year. They will make their furlough home in Hattiesburg while Dr. Clawson associates himself with the college program.

Dr. Clawson serves the Mexican Baptist Theological Seminary in Torreon as dean of men and professor of Hebrew, biblical introduction, Old Testament, and church

Before going to Mexico he was pastor of eight Baptist churches in Louisiana and William Carey College claimed a tie for third place with Emory University at the annual Azalea Debate Tournament in Mobile on February 26 and 27. Peggy Bell and Edwin Butler were the winning team representing Carey.

Involved in the competition were forty-six teams with twenty-four colleges and universities represented. First place went to Loyola University of New Orleans and second place was won by Notre Dame.

Other Carey students participating in the tournament were Mark Watson and Fred Bailey.

Mrs. Mary Treser, associate professor of speech and drama, is the faculty sponsor for the debate team.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IS ABOLISHED IN IOWA

DES MOINES, Iowa (RNS) - Abolition of capital punishment in Iowa, passed by both houses of the legislature, will become effective upon approval of Gov. Harold E. Hughes.

Iowa's governor had supported the bill which won passage in the House and Senate.

A Senate amendment to the original measure was defeated. It sought to retain the death penalty in cases involving murder of peace officers and harm to kidnapped Hanging for first-degree murder and kidnapping has been legal in Iowa since 1878. Capital punishment was first abolished in the state in 1872, but was restored six years later.

INFORMATION ON RULE NUMBER TWO OF THE 1965 HYMN PLAYING FESTIVALS

A number of inquires have come to the Church Music Department requesting an interpretation of rule number two of the "Rules For Hymn Players."

The rule does not require, as some have interpreted, that a hymn of general worship be used; rather any hymn from the Baptist Hymnal or Broadman Hymnal may be used. Part of rule two reads as follows: "Since 1965 is a year of emphasis on worship, it is suggested (but not required) that hymns of general worship be used."

College Trustees Make Decisions

The boards of trustees of the Mississippi Baptist colleges have taken two different positions in the matter of signing the compliance agreement now required by the federal government in order for students of the institutions to participate in the National Defense Education Act loans.

Trustees of the two institutions, Mississippi College and Blue Mountain College, have voted not to sign the agreement. The trustees of Clarke College took no action, but simply will allow the deadline to pass without signing. The trustees of William Carey College have voted to allow the administrator to sign.

The compliance agreement is related to the 1964 Civil Rights Act and says that there will be no discrimination in the admission policy or in the treatment of any student "on account of race, color or national origin.'

All four of the institutions now have students who are participating in the NDEA loans. More than 600 students are receiving the loans this year in a total sum of above $300,000. The loans are made to students and not to the institutions, although the colleges act as administrators for them.

Church-State Issue The disagreement in the positions taken by the trustees, evidently is, according to their released statements, based upon their interpretation of whether the acceptance of the funds constitutes a breach in the separation of church and state.

Some of the groups of trustees feel that it does constitute such a breach, since the federal agencies now have demanded the meeting of certain conditions relative to the admission policies and treatment of students. The other group of trustees evidently does not see this as a serious church-state problem, since the loans are made to students rather than to the institutions themselves.

What Effect? What the effect of the actions will be on the future of the institutions remains to be seen. The schools which refuse to continue to participate in the use of the loan funds, face the possibility of losing some students, since all of the state institutions have conformed to the government policy and can accept students who desire to use the loan fund. Moreover, at least one other private school in the state, and many of the Baptist schools in other states have signed the agreement and will continue to use the fund.

Those institutions which refuse to participate, also face the possibility of losing grants from foundations and other groups for special programs in the fields of science, mathematics, etc., since it seems to be generally understood that such groups are not planning to make further contributions to institutions which have not conformed to the policies required in the conformity agreement. Neither can they participate in government loans for buildings, purchase surplus government equipment, or receive special science grants, etc., as they have done in the past. These institutions now must seek funds from other sources to replace those which may have been lost through the decision not to sign.

Disagreement Expected It is to be expected that many Mississippi Baptists will not agree with or approve of one or other of the positions taken by the trustees of these institutions. This always will be true in a democratic body such as a Baptist convention. However, it must be remembered that the trustees have full authority in administering the affairs of the institutions, and even the convention itself cannot interfere with their actions, except by the regular democratic procedure of election of trustees. Of course, the convention could, by convention action, give an expression of its position in the matter, for guidance of the trustees, but the final decision would be in their hands.

The trustees who handle the affairs of the institutions for the convention are trusted pastors and laymen and women from the churches of Mississippi. They are deeply interested in the whole Baptist program of the state, and have special responsibility for the institutions for which they have been asked to serve. They are men and women who sincerely seek to follow the leadership of the Lord in the decisions they make concerning the institutions, and to do those things which they feel are best for the institutions, and the will of Mississippi Baptists. We are sure that they have made the present decisions in the light of those attitudes.

What the present decisions will mean to the future of the institutions cannot be foreseen. Only time will reveal what they will mean to the schools, and to our Baptist work in the state.

PSA. 103:15

MAY WE HAVE FORESIGHT:

Support Needed Now Meanwhile, Mississippi Baptists must rally behind each of the institutions with their finest support. If the schools are to continue as growing, effective institutions, making a worthy contribution to the educational life of the state, and to the work of our churches, they must have adequate support from their constituency. The future of Mississippi Baptist work is closely tied to the future of our schools, and we must keep them strong.

The Mississippi Baptist Convention itself is seeking to give worthy support to the institutions. However, funds from the convention budget never have been enough, by themselves, to provide for all the needs of the schools. Moreover, it is probable that the amount of that convention budget support cannot be greatly increased within the next few years. At the present time more than 25% of the total convention income for all purposes is being channeled to Christian education in the state. It seems difficult, in the light of all of the work the convention is seeking to do, to see how those percentages can be made larger.

Neither does it seem probable that there will be any rapidly accelerating increase in Cooperative Program funds. Even should they grow at the rate of $200,000 per year, which they seldom have done, this still would mean only about $50,000 for Christian education. This amount, divided among the four schools, would not begin to meet their needs.

Individuals Must Give This means, that, as in the past, the additional funds must come from individuals who love the institutions and the cause of Christian education, and will give generous and even sacrificial support to the institutions. Mississippi College already has announced that it is seeking private funds to take the place of the more than $200,000 per year it has been receiving from students using the NDEA funds. These funds must be forthcoming if the schools are to continue to render the service of the past.

There is only one alternative, and that is to change our whole concept of Christian education. Either we give adequate funds to the institutions so they can carry on their present program, or we must ask them to change that program, and become institutions of limited enrollment, in specialized fields.

It is not an easy decision, but it must be made. It faces the institutions, their trustees and Mississippi Baptists now. What the future of the schools will be is up to Mississippi Baptists.

They must have our finest support if they are to live and continue to serve.

NASHVILLE - The home, the conversion experience. and Biblical archaeology are the subjects of second quarter Broadman Readers Plan books written by seminary professors John W. Drakeford, Samuel Southard and E. Jerry Vardaman.

The books will be released April 1 by Broadman Press.

"The home: Laboratory of Life" is a collection of 10 sermons used in church conferences on family life by Dr. Drakeford, Director of Baptist marriage and family counseling center and Professor of Psychology and Counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

The sermons, which grew out of Dr. Drakeford's study of family life and his counseling experiences of the last 15 years, offer inspirational teaching on what the Christian home should be.

"Conversion and Christian Character" by Dr. Southard deals with the nature of conversion and the effect it should have on all aspects of one's character. The purpose of the book is to clarify the new point, of view expected of the converted man and to challenge each Christian to grow in grace.

Dr. Southard is Professor of Psychology of Religion, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and Theological Consultant for Norton Memorial Infirmary, Louis-

Dr. Vardaman, assistant professor of Biblical archaeology at Southern Seminary, has written "Archaeology and the Living Word." The book is a brief survey of some of the significant discoveries that have helped scholars understand the culture of ancient times and to explain difficult Bible passages.

BAPTIST BELIEFS

By Herschel H. Hobbs Pastor, First Baptist Church Oklahoma City, Okla.

WOMEN SILENT IN CHURCHES (I Corinthians 14:34-35) Did Paul mean this as a permanent ban on a woman speaking in the public gatherings within the church? Some so understand it. But in I Corinthians 11:5-6 he assumes the practice of women praying and prophesying in church. His only instruction is that they do so with their heads covered. (In Corinth the sign of a prostitute's trade was an uncovered head. Hence this instruction dealing with a local situation.) It is suggested by some that this was in private or home meetings. But there is no basis to substantiate this. In I Timothy 2:11-12 the point seems to be that a woman should not usurp Churchteaching and authority over a man. We do know that both with two other well - known Acquila and Priscilla (a woman) taught Apollos (Acts 18:26), but this apparently Oil Company. The tower was done in private. Acts 21:9 speaks of Philip's virgin daughters prophesying, which > implies public speaking. But Paul did say in I Corinthians 14:34 that "your women (Corinthians) keep silence in the churches." How may we harmonize this with I Corinthians 11:5? In the latter Paul is speaking of praying and prophesying or speaking forth for God. But in Chapter 14 he is dealing with the matter of speaking in "tongues" or in foreign languages, perhaps not understood by their hearers. They were doing this so as a matter of pride in possessing this spiritual gift. Since the language was not understood by their hearers their speech would seem as unintelligible gibberish. At Corinth in the pagan temple of Aphrodite priestesses, or prostitutes used in the sexual worship of the goddess, in certain rituals gave forth ecstatic and meaningless utterances. Paul says that if the Christian women of Corinth speak in "tongues" the "unlearned or unbelievers" (14:23) will regard them as being no different from the pagan priestesses. Such action, therefore, would bring shame upon both the church and their husbands (I Cor. 14:35; cf. 11:6). It is commanded, therefore, that they keep silence with regard they would learn of this action (v. 35, aorist tense) let them ask their husbands, the head of the home (11:3), in the privacy of their own homes. While some will not agree, to speaking in tongues. If this does not appear to be of universal application. It dealt with a local condition in Corinth. It certainly does not forbid the teaching ministry, prayer, and witnessing of Godly women.

Junior Unions Boost Use Of Information Kit

NASHVILLE_Junior training unions across the Southern Baptist Convention account for many of the 1,450 requests for the Sunday School Board information kit in January. The kit was suggested as supplementary material for use with the Jan. 31 programs on the work of the Sunday School board in "Baptist Junior Union Quarterly I" and "Baptist Junior Union Quarterly II."

Fitness For The Kingdom

By Clifton J. Allen Matthew 21-22

This lesson brings us to the beginning of the week of Jesus' crucifixion. Matthew's emphasis on Jesus as the Messiah-King comes to focus in his rejection by the Jewish nation. Through the triumphal entry Jesus formally offered himself to the nation. The cursing of the fig tree was an acted parable of the judgment to come upon a nation that failed to bear the fruits of faith and righteousness. The cleansing of the Temple demonstrated Jesus' authority in the house of God and his concern that worship should be in harmony with its nature and meaning. Jesus then spoke a number of parables to show how the people generally, and religious leaders in particular, had forfeited their place in the kingdom of heaven through their rejection of him as the Messiah. Jesus answered a series of captious questions to the dismay of his critics and with clear instruction about religious duty and faith.

The kingdom of God involves the greatest privilege, the holiest obligation, and the highest requirement. Who can be fit for it? What shame and sin when persons are indifferent to the kingdom! How can they escape torment if they reject it!

The Lesson Explained REPENTANCE CALLED FOR (21:28-31)

The religious leaders were both unrepentant and unbelieving. Jesus illustrated their attitude by the story of the two sons. The attitude of the religious leaders was represented by the second son. They professed to be God's people, but they refused to obey him. The first son represented the publicans and the harlots. They made no religious profession. But when John the Baptist came preaching righteousness, they believed him and repented. Jesus made the pointed application that the publicans and harlots, the degenerate and disreputable, would be received into the kingdom of God because they repented; the chief priests and elders would be rejected because they repented not.

INDIFFERENCE

CONDEMNED (22:1-10)

Following the parable of the two sons, Jesus spoke another parable—the wedding feast-to illustrate the sin and loss of those who are indifferent to the kingdom of heaven and the blessings of salvation.

Jesus was teaching the terrible sin and danger of despising God's kingdom, of being indifferent to the blessings of salvation, of rejecting the privilege to honor the Son of God. The kingdom of heaven represents all that Christ can mean through his salvation and lordship. The riches of God's grace are offered to men. The entreaties of God spoken by Christ and his servants are come to the feast. Those who will not come will surely reap the consequences of their iniquity. The kingdom is not to be lightly regarded. When God's redemption in Christ is offered to men, without money and without price, the outcome of rejection is certain judgment, certain destruction.

RIGHTEOUSNESS

REQUIRED (22:11-14) Among those who finally came to the wedding feast was a person who came, as it were, with thoughtless indifference to appropriate dress. When he was asked by the king for an explanation, he was speechless. Hence he was cast out. He stands for the person unfit for the kingdom of heaven because he lacks the garment of righteousness. There are persons who presume to claim places in the kingdom. They join churches professing to be Christians. They enter into the circles of the redeemed. But they come never having yielded themselves to Christ in saving faith. And so they come without being clothed in the righteousness of Christ righteousness which is the gift of God for all who desire to be covered by the atonement of Christ and made acceptable for his sake.

Truths to Live By

Fitness for the kingdom comes through Christ .- The children of the kingdom of God are those who have been reconciled to God through faith in Christ. They are the ones made alive in Christ by the power of his Spirit. They are the ones redeemed through his blood. They are the ones saved by grace through faith, who stand justified in the sight of God not by works of righteousness which they have done but saved according to mercy. They are justified by grace and made heirs of eternal life for the glory of Christ.

God chooses all who will respond. - In his righteous sovereignty, and in keeping with his elective grace, God calls all who will respond to the offer of forgiveness and sonship. Let no one raise a question in his own mind as to whether he is chosen of the Lord. Let him learn from the parable of the wedding feast the truth of God's concern for all persons, the good and the bad. God yearns for them to know the blessing of his redemption in Jesus Rejecting Christ brings fearful consequences. — The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner. Christ is now the rock of salvation. Those who stumble against this rock are broken in pieces. When it becomes the rock of judgment, they will suffer the inevitable misery of everlasting torment, separated from the presence of God forever. This is indeed a terrible prospect, a warning that should cause multitudes to repent and turn to Christ and to do works in keeping with repentance. It not enough to become afraid at the end of life.

THE SOUTHWESTERN SINGERS, the a cappella touring choir of Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, will be engaged in a six-state concert tour March 12-22. Robert L. Burton is director of the choir. In Mississippi the choir will sing at First Church, Meridian, on Saturday evening, March 20 at 7:30 P.M. and Sunday morning, March 21, at 11:00 A.M. in Jackson. Pictured below are Mississippians in the choir: Richard Joiner of Natchez; Connie Sills of Jackson; Farley Earnest of Columbus; and Ross Rogers of Pascagoula.

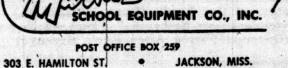

The State of Israel, now sixteen years old, has come of age. Her growth is seen in the following statistics. Be-tween 1949 and 1963, the population increased from 750,000 to 2,430,000; number of stu-dents in school, from 137,000 to 690,000; number of vehicles, from 34,000 to 117,000; builtin area of homes, from 34,000 to 117,000 square meters. Exports ($337 million) are over 11 times what they were in 1949; imports ($663 million), about 2½ times. Average growth rate of the gross national product is 11 per cent

By Rev. Carel O. Estes, Mission Pastor, First, Canton Jesus Christ is that without whom one cannot function righteously or survive eternally. " . . . There is none other name under heaven, given among men whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12).

In our stead His sacrificial death achieved our greatest need. He suffered our hell penalty for every person. "The Lord hath lain on Him the iniquity of us all." "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse instead of us". (Isa. 53:6; Gal. 3:13) He chose to bear the wrath of God in our stead.

"Now about the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour, and about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, 'My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?'" (Matt. 27:46). Before now Jesus had spoken of God as "Father" or "My Father". Now becoming sin in our stead. Jesus could use only a sinner's cry, "My God, my God," After paying our sin debt in order that God could be just and forgive our sin debt in order that God could 'Father, into thy hand I commit my spirit,' and having said this, He breathed His last." (Luke 23:46).

Jesus' work instead of us did not end in his vicarious death. During the black darkness before the coming of the soldier to pierce His side, Christ made his way to the Holy of Holies of God's presence to present His sacrifice as our blood atonement, having Himself become our Great High Priest.

He returned on the morning of the third day and raised to life his buried sacrificial body, wherein He walked forty days among those who had trusted Him, proving He was alive

He instructed them concerning the work He commanded them in seeking lost people and introducting them to Jesus who said, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save the lost," (Luke 19:10) and "As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you." (John 20:21).

Ours is to seek lost people. Jesus still does all the saving.

CYNTHIA CHANDLER,

daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Raiph Chandler, Tupelo, has been presented an outstanding achievement award in recognition of her service in advancing Christian missions

in her church and communi-

LEE CALLED TO LOUISIANA · Founder Dies

First Church, Jennings, La., extended a call to Dr. J. W. Lee to serve as pastor.

Dr. Lee, who was serving as pastor of Morgantown Church, Natchez, has been pastor of churches in Louisiana and Mississippi. He began his ministry in Jennings on February 10.

Dr. Lee is a graduate of Louisiana College and has earned the Bachelor of Divinity and Doctor of Theology degrees at New Orleans Seminary. Mrs. Lee, the former Joyce Bilbo, also attended both institutions. She is from Bogalusa, La., (Dr. Lee's father, W. P. Lee, has served several Louisiana churches and is presently at the Evangeline Church at Wildsville.)

Reading Circles

Mrs. J. M. Harris, founder of the Reading Circles of the Woman's Missionary Union of First Church, Hattiesburg, died unexpectedly on Feb. 22. while undergoing surgery for a fractured hip.

A native of Sturgis, Mrs. Harris was married in 1905 to the late John Myrick Harris. They moved to Hattiesburg in 1922. Mrs. Harris taught for thirty-two years in Mississippi schools.

She was known particularly for her service to the community. She founded a Home Readers Circle, and more recently had organized a Listener's Circle, presenting a book review each month for those to whom that type of program was best fitted.
